The priorities of the 2014-2020 cohesion policy open up new prospects for major players in public housing to play a large and active part in fulfilling the objectives of the EU 2020.

Thermal renovation for public housing and the development of renewable energy sources, joint policies for sustainable urban development, access to housing for disadvantaged groups – so many ERDF and ESF investment priorities proposed by the European Commission in the 2014-2020 regulation projects, so much potential for public housing bodies to get involved in this new cohesion policy.

The challenge: getting the ERDF and ESF to take action to assist low-income households, local development and employment.

This European conference, co-organised by CECODHAS Housing Europe and the l'Union sociale pour l'habitat, with the help of the European Commission and the Rhône-Alpes Region, pursues two aims:

1. To raise participants' awareness about the interest in getting involved with implementing this cohesion policy and about helping prepare partnership contracts among the member states and European Commission,
2. To prepare the regional players to offer these new investment priorities in future regional operational programmes.

Since Europe is getting involved in neighbourhoods to assist low-income households, it is up to us to actively help prepare the 2014-2020 cohesion policy and effectively implemented it in the various regions.
